taking and responsibility. This is a nice point, and one that applies not only to stores on the We have with us Messrs. avenues and boulevards, but to hotels on the country roads all over the State, where a rider Doyle and Dann, who were foroften stops at night and leaves his wheel in the rack belonging to the place. A similar case was merly in the custom shirt dept. tried in one of the lower courts by the attorney for the New York State division, and the latof the Keep Mfg. Co., and the cutters and work-people in the employ of such company for many years and whom we consider most competent.

ter lost. According to the attorney, the difficulty is to prove that the proprietor explicitly accepted responsibility for the bicycle, that is, told the rider to leave it in the rack and that he would be responsible for it; secondly, to prove that after having done this he was guilty of gross negligence in allowing the machine to be stolen. Where there is a cycle rack with an attendant who issues checks the case is different, for there it can be readily proven that the wheel has passed into the keeping of the place, and this establishes the responsibility. If money is accorded for checking the case is still stronger, and, according to the division attorney, the plaintiff could recover in nine cases out of ten. It is the tawyer's opinion that when a man puts a bicycle rack in front of his place it is parallel with putting up a hitching post, and that no responsibility is assumed unless it is done explicitly as explained. In the opinion of another lawyer, however, the bicycle rack does not class with the hitching post, and there is an implied acceptance of responsibility in the placing of one on the premises of a public house. The attorney for the State division says that it was the testimony of the plaintiff that lost his case; that his story on the stand was discredited by the Court, and that had he known what testimony his client would give he would not have brought the case to trial. Thus it appears that there is a possibility, though a slight one, of recovering on a bicycle stolen under the conditions named. The burden of legal opinion is against it, however, and this tends to show that the wisest course is for a wheelman to guard his own cycle or pay for having it checked.

A meeting of the National Cycledrome was ent, for there it can be readily proven that the wheelman to guara his own cycle or pay for having it checked.

A meeting of the National Cycledrome was held yesterday morning at the Astor House, at which matters were adjusted in about the manner indicated in The Sux of yesterday. The embarrassment of the organization was caused by heavy expenditures early in the season, which were not equalied by receipts because of the unfavorable weather and other things. The expense of building the track and improving the grounds at Ambrose Park was heavy, and no meet held there has shown a profit. The managers of the Cycledrome declared that the embarrassment was of temporary character, and the creditors immediately granted to them an extension of time. A new "angel" came forward in the person of a business man of Brooklyn, and the money invested by him will enable the promoters to make a fresh start. The string of foreign riders will be weeded out and the best ones retained under new contracts. The track at Ambrose Park will receive pretty much all the attention. The courses at Wallham, Mass., and Woodside Park, Philadelphia, were not under Cycledrome control, although Manager Morgan had an interest in both. Secretary Reeves left last night for Philadelphia to see what new arrangements could be made with Tom Eck concerning the Woodside Park track. The National Circuit annetion for June 11, which was held by the Cycledrome, has been transferred to Berkeley Oval, a proceeding of which it is confidently expected that Chairman Mott will approve.

The members of the Morris Wheelmen Intend to go in for short tours this season on a large scale. The road officers have outlined an interesting schedule. The members of the club wishing to participate in the century run to-morrow will leave this afternoon by steamer for Sag Harbor and will ride from the latter place to this city. Over July 2, 3, and 4 the club will indulge in a three-day tour along the New Jersey coast, taking in all the leading resorts. On July 30 and 31 a trip to Newburg is planned, including a ride through the Ramapo Valley. Over Labor Day the objective destination of the club riders will be Lake Hopatcong. This trip will include Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

In the assignment of racing numbers to pro-fessional ricers this week, George Banker of Pittsturg, the old-time crack, is included in the Racing Board's list. There are twenty-one oth-ers. The official buildtin issued yesterday contains the following:

I See, for unfair dealing connected with eyel-racing Sametons Granted-J. L. Brower, Phoenixville, Pa. July 16; Staunton Cycle Club, Staunton, Va., June 17 Red Bank Wheelmen, Red Bank, N. RED BANK, June 3.—Two road races were beld here to day. Both were handicaps, one being one mile and the other eighteen miles. There were fourteen starters in each. The roads were in fine condition, and good time was made. The one-mile event was won by J. O. Howland of Scabright, 15 yards, George A. Hawkins of Red Bank, scratch, was second; Harry Degenring, 40 yards, third; Del Fisher, 50 yards, fourth, and Asher Carver, 25 yards, fifth. Time, 2 minutes 8 seconds. The winner of the eighteen-mile race was Edwin Ivins of Red Bank, who received a handleap of seven minutes; bei Pisher, 7 minutes, was second; Hugh West, 5 minutes, third; W. F. Housen, 4 minutes, fourth, and Howard Hance, 3 minutes, fifth. Time, 56 minutes 47 seconds. George Hawkins won the time prize from scratch.

A meeting of the joint committees of the Good Roads Association of Brooklyn and the L. A. W. Consulate of Manhattan on the revised rules of the road to be incorporated in the revised ordinances of the greatericity was held yesterday afternoon. No definite action was taken, but the discussion revealed the fact that it was going to be no easy task to readjust the ordinances see as to prescribe with justice what shall and what shall not be done all over New York. On the country roads of the city coasting is permissible and also a different rate of speed from what is allowed on the boulevards and avenues. As the rules now stand the right of way is given to traffic going north and south, but in Brooklyn the burden of traffic is east and west. Several meetings will be held and all points sifted until roles equitably quasified can be decided upon. At the meeting the matter of Alderman Lang's incycle tax ordinance came up for discussion and it was generally conceded that a law like that which is enforced in St. Louis, taxing all vehicles and grading the Jaxation according to weight, should be indozed, providing that the funds from the taxes be spent in road improvement.

NEW YORK, 16; CINCINNATI, 10.

In the fourth inning of the game at the Polo

Grounds yesterday there was an incident that marred what was otherwise a most interesting contest. Beckley, the Cincinnati first baseman, came to the plate and bunted. He got a fine start and easily beat out Gettig's throw.

As Beckley put his foot on first base, the ball

As Beckley put his foot on first base, the ball struck Joyce's mitt and bounded out. The New York captain clapped his hand over his jaw and looked daggers at the big Ohioan. Then "Scrappy," who seemed to have lost his temper entirely, picked up the ball and with deliberation threw it as hard as he could at Beckley. The latter had partially turned around and the ball struck him squarely on the back of his head. The crowd was up in arms in an instant and everybody expected to see a free fight as the members of both teams rushed toward the two angry players. Beckley, however, made no attempt to retailate, but asked Assistant Umpire Andrews to take some action. The latter, who showed sizes of incompactency on several other occasions during the afternoon, refused to do anything, but Umpire Emelle ran down from his position behind the plate and ordered Joyce to leave the field. The crowd, which as usual was thoroughly partisan, called for Beckley's removal, and when the latter continued playing he was subjected to hooting, cat-calls and hisses until the game ended.

After the game, Joyce declared that Beckley partisan, called for Heckley s removal, and when the latter continued playing he was subjected to hooting, cat-calls and hisses until the game ended.

After the game, Joyce declared that Beckley had punched him in the law as he crosses the bag, and that by so doing he had made him drop the ball. The umpires, however, declared with emphasis that they saw no blow struck. Heckley stated that he did not even bump into the New York captain, and President Brush, who sat in the grand stand directly in line with the first base, was positive that the New York captain had not been interfered with. Manager Ewing of the Cincinnatia said that Beckley was blameless and that Joyce tried to square himself with the crowd for dropping the bail by creating the impression that Beckley had knocked it out of his hands. The officials of the New York Club were quite sure that Beckley had knocked it out of his hands. The officials of the New York Club were quite sure that Beckley was at fault, and some of the cranks who swear by the New Yorks applauded Joyce when he went to the beach. Others hissed him. The consensus of opinion was that Joyce was guilty of a cowardly piece of business, no matter whether he was interfered with or not.

The game itself was exciting, bocause of its see-saw features and the terrific batting by both teams. There were no kicks against the umpires rulings, although Andrews made a couple of questionable decisions against the visitors. Both Hawley and Russe were bammered out of the box in the first two innincs, which was regarded as a peculiar coincidence. Hawley had not pitched in a losing game this year, but from the very first he was interfective. Although there was nothing the matter with his delivery, Rusie's case was somewhat different, and when he left the game he received the sympathy of all of the 3,000 spectators. There is no disputing the fact that this wenderful pitcher, who has done yeoman service for the New York Club since he first came here in 1890, is in a bad way. His arm has been botherium hi Rusie is permitted to reat for a while he may be permanently disabled. The season is young yet, and the big fellow will be needed when the New Yorks get into the homestretch.

The explosion of Hawley was so unexpected that the crowd had lots of fun at his expense. "Pink" puts on so many airs while he is in the bex that baseball cranks enjoy themselves when he is under fire. So when he began by giving four balls to Van Haltren and Tiernan singled there was a general laugh. Joyce was hif on the head with a pitched ball, but it didn't hurthim, and the bases were filled. Smashing singles by Davis and Gleason followed, and four runs were the result before the inning closed. Again in the second singles by Rusie, Van Haltren and Tiernan, coupled with a passed ball, netted two more runs. This finished Hawley, although he took a turn at the bat in the first half of the third. With a man on base he whacked a four-bagger over the right field ropes. The score was 9 to 6 when the New Yorks were quickly bowled over by Left-hander Damman in the last half.

Then came the Joyce-Beckley row in the fourth and the advent of "Michael Angelo" Grady, who succeeded the New York captain and proceeded to practically win the game with his fine batting and enperb fielding. With Beckley on third and McPhee on second and one out in this inning, Grady made a sensational jumping catch of Smith's finger-breaking liner and doubled up McPhee at second. It was a beautiful play, and Grady was widdy applauded. In the last half the New Yorks accored 6 runs, all of which were due to Cincinnati's only error, a slight fumble by Corcoran, and a poor decision by Andrews. Van Haltren began with a bit, and Tiernan slapped the ball to Corcoran. The latter fumbled the sphere, but apparently got it to McPhee in time to force Van. The latter dumber of the part of the part of the house on balls, and the figures 12 to 10 in the fleating out.

The visitors made one run in the sixth on a single by McBride, a double to the part of the part of the half of the runs.

BROOKLYN, 2; CHICAGO, 1.

Testerday's game at Washington Park was a pitchers' battle between Yeager and Griffith, the first named carrying off the honors. Barring the first inning, when a base on bails and three hits netted two runs, the Brooklyns were unable to solve Griffith. Yeager had excellent control and shot the hall admiss the plate at a fast rate of speed. The exthancaster pitcher made a good try to shut out the visitors and would have succeeded but for errors by Smith and Shindle. DIXON AND JORDAN TO FIGHT. Will Sign Articles Next Monday to Box-Dixon

Ben Jordan's desire to have an opportunity to wrest the title of featherweight champion of the world will soon be gratified, for last night Tom O'Rourke, George Dixon's manager, announced that Dixon has agreed to box the Englishman, and that the match will be ratified next Monday afternoon. O'Rourke, by appointment, met Martin Dowling, Jordan's backer, at the Gilsey House. Dowling conveyed to O'Rourke just what Jordan wanted, and declared his willingness to post a forfeit and sign articles then and there. However, O'Rourke concluded It would be better to wait, and suggested Mon-Tom said to THE SUN reporter that Dixon would Tom said to Tug Sux recorter that Dixon would surely meet Jordan, and that the weight would be 122 pounds at 3 o clock. O Rourke has also posted $500 to hack Dixon sarainst Pedlar Palmer at 116 pounds. This is rather low for Dixon, some sports think, and is surprising in view of the fact that the dusky champion has always given sway weight and met boxers a dozen pounds heavier than himself.

When O'Rourke was questioned about this, he said: "I know what I am doing. George only weighed 115 to pounds to-day and is in fine shape for his match with Santry next. Monday night. He is strong and will be able to box Palmer casily at 116 pounds."

Later in the evening O'Rourke had a talk with San Fitzpatrick. Sam informed Tom that Warren Lewis had offered a purse of $4,000 for Kid Lavigne and Jack Daly to meet for the lightweight championship. Tom said he was willing to give 50 per cent, of the gate receipts and a guarantee for the match. Sam and O'Hourke are to meet next week to decide matters. It was also learnest on good authority that Lewis has matched Tom Sharkey to meet Gus Ruhlin at Coney Island next month in a twenty-five-round bout, for a purse of $8,500. -Horton and Urquhart; Mularkey and Rochester......0 0 1 0 0 1 1 0 0—3 4 2 Wilkesbarre....0 5 0 0 0 1 2 0 ...-8 13 34 0 0 0 0 5 0 0 0-9 11 00 0 0 1 0 0 0 2 0-8 6 2

The following dele-gates were present: L. Frothingham, C. Frothingham and Manning, "Poly Prep." Gilmore and Addy, Adelphi: Creegan, Chadwick and Hewett, Brooklyn

S A. W. Burlingame of the Brooklyn High School, who got second place in the 100 and 220 yard dashes at the recent championship, was disqualified by the association, as he was not eligible to compete according to the constitution. Owing to the absence of the ing to the constitution. Owing to the absence of the official score the medals for second and third places in the two events could not be awarded. This also prevents Burlingame from competing in the national interscholastic championship on next Friday, which means the loss of several points for the association. The protect of Bow et of Pexit institute that the hurdles in the championship were not of the regulation kind was withforws.

In the case of R. L. banford of "Poly Prep" School, who was also protected in the ground of ineligibility, he informed the association that he was not slightle and the medals for the one-nile run will be awarded accordingly.
